ON MAIN STREET

That was a wise old chieftain who urged his warriors not to attack young men to the military unless they were evidently more outnumbered and outwitted in their fight than their elders. "We must allow," he said, "for the inevitable shrinkage." The same allowance is necessary in every life for the sure closing in of the real upon the ideal of youth and the unavoidable narrowing of hope and aim that must come with middle age. The more ideal we start with the more slowly we defend it against the shocks it is certain to receive, the more joyous life will turn out to be as we go on living. The dreaminess of the middle age view of life springs largely from the fact that the ideals are so shrouded as to be no longer a source of vitality, of renewal. As long as we believe in life and in love and in friendship and in goodness and in other ideal possibilities life is worth living, and we are strong to take our part in it. Living for ideals is happy and courageous living. Living without them is the dull gray life and apathetic end. Harper's Bazar.

A Criminal Paradise.—Spain's criminal settlement in the Zafra Islands is said to be quite a paradise of convicts. Their liberty is restricted only so far that they must leave the islands and must return to the mainland unless they obtain leave of absence for the night. At 11 o'clock in the morning the convicts are set free. Some do a little work, but the majority go straight to the famous wine shops and hosteries, where they pass the day drinking, singing and occasionally breaking the windows of life with a little killing.

He Heard Pa Tell Ma.—"Your hair isn't wet," said little Tommy to Mr. Flyer, who was calling. "No, of course not! What made you think my hair was wet?" he asked, very much surprised.

Unrepentant.—Crook (genially) to Jove: "I'm glad to see you, neighbor. How are you? Did you hear all the folks? How?"

A Cynic on Marriage.—"Of course a bachelor knows more about marriage than a married man," says a matrimonialist, the married cynic. "The best proof of this proposition is that the bachelor did not marry."

The Other Extreme.—Parke-Piller: "His wife is a spendthrift. Is there anything worse?"

The Sturdy Man of Japan.—The average Japanese man in Europe gives no fair idea of the physique of his people. He no more represents the average man of his people than does the homevarder represent the French peasant.

Turkish Bookkeepers.—A writer who spent much of his early life in Turkey observed that Turkish books and bookkeepers were among the curious features of the country.

Men Who Scold Themselves.—"We still find men who have millions of faith in the old fashioned idea of giving their hair 100 strokes with the brush night and morning," said the old barber. "Some of them are not content with the old fashioned hog's bristle brush. They use a wire bristle, electric or otherwise. It's all a fake. A brush drags out the hair by the roots much more quickly than a comb. A man who wants to save his hair should use the brush as little as possible. With women it is different. They are thick, long hair, and it is not brushed daily it is likely to fall out. Besides, a brush gives gloss to the hair, and that's what women like. But with a man a healthy head of hair looks as well without the gloss as with it. All that is necessary for him is to keep the scalp clean and use the comb. He has very little use for the brush."—New York Press.

There are seven main features of heart disease, viz: (1) Weakness or Debility; (2) Rheumatism or Neuralgia; (3) Valvular Disorder; (4) Dilatation; (5) Enlargement; (6) Fatty Degeneration; (7) Dropsy.

Documentary evidence will prove thousands of so-called "incurables" have been absolutely cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Patients often have no idea their disease is heart trouble, but ascribe it to indigestion, Liver Complaint, etc.

Here are some of the symptoms: Shortness of breath after exercise; Smothering Spells; Pain in Chest, left Shoulder and arm; Discomfort in Lying on one side; Fainting Spells; Nervous Cough; Swelling of Feet and Ankles; Paleness of Face and Lips; Palpitation; Nightmare; Irregular Pulse.

"I have great faith in Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and speak of its merits whenever opportunity presents. I can now go up and down stairs with ease, where three weeks ago I could hardly walk one block." (One year later, "I am still in good health; the Heart Cure did me much good. J. R. Blake and family, of Lost Creek spent several days with the family of Wm. H. Hagins this week. He went to Somerset, in the meantime to look after his store. He found everything in a prosperous condition under the management of his partner O. L. Conyers, who is well known here.

Too Great A Risk

In almost every neighborhood somewhere has died from an attack of cholera or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by Day Bros Co.

Bargain For Farmers

The New-York Tribune Farmer, a national illustrated agricultural weekly of twenty large pages, has no superior as a thoroughly practical and helpful publication for the farmer and every member of his family, and the publishers are determined to give a circulation unequalled by any paper of its class in the United States.

Knowing that every enterprising farmer always reads his own local weekly newspaper, The New-York Tribune Farmer has made an exceptionally liberal arrangement which enables us to offer the two papers at so low a price that no farmer can afford to lose the opportunity.

The price of The New-York Tribune Farmer is $1.00 a year and The Breathitt County News is $1.00 a year, but both papers sent for a full year if you forward $1.25 to the News-Jackson Ky. Send your name and address to New-York Tribune Farmer, New York City and a specimen copy of that paper will be mailed to you.
